Primary Funders: NALCAB Mobilizes $6 Million in Emergency Funding Devoted to COVID-19 Assistance

Grants

- JPMorgan Chase: Above and beyond its existing multiyear financial support for NALCAB, JPMorgan Chase moved rapidly during this crisis to approve a $1 million grant that is allowing NALCAB to make general operating grants to 67 member organizations as they respond to the economic crisis in Latino communities caused by the coronavirus pandemic. These grants will land in 21 states, DC and Puerto Rico with the largest numbers in Texas (20), California (10), Florida (5), Pennsylvania (4), Colorado (3), Washington State (3) and Massachusetts (3).
- Wells Fargo Foundation: Building on an existing multiyear financial commitment in support of NALCAB's financial capability program, the Wells Fargo Foundation moved rapidly during this crisis to make $825,000 in grant funding available for NALCAB to support financial capability services in Latino communities. NALCAB will be making $270,000 in grants to 12 organizations as well as providing relevant technical assistance and training to support the adaptation of their financial capability services to the reality of physical distancing as well as the deteriorating financial condition of many of their clients.
- JPMorgan Chase and Prudential Foundation: With coordinated support from JPMorgan Chase and the Prudential Foundation, NALCAB released a Request for Proposals in February to solicit competitive applications from nonprofits for grants to support neighborhood level efforts to prevent involuntary displacement while increasing access to wealth-generating assets for low-income households. NALCAB staff greatly accelerated their review of the grant applications and have awarded $535,000 to 16 non-profit organizations to create or implement equitable neighborhood development action plans.
- US HUD Rural Capacity Building Program: In coordination with US HUD, NALCAB is making available $135,000 in grant funding to build the capacity of 7 rural serving nonprofit organizations in California, Arizona, Oregon and New Mexico as they respond to the economic impact of the pandemic in their communities. These resources are part of a larger grant previously awarded to NALCAB.
- Citi: Building on a decade long partnership, Citi provided NALCAB with a $75,000 grant to support NALCAB's policy work, outreach and programs related to the COVID-19 pandemic.
- Oportun: Oportun is a mission-based, technology-powered, consumer lender that provides inclusive, affordable, financial services that allow their low- and moderate- income customers to build a better future. As part of an overarching strategy to support the communities they serve, Oportun provided a $50,000 grant to support NALCAB's federal policy advocacy and national programs related to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Low Cost Debt

- Wells Fargo/ Acceso Loan Fund: In the fourth quarter of 2019, Wells Fargo Foundation announced a historic \$10 million grant to NALCAB to support growth-oriented lending to minority-owned businesses nationwide. Utilizing this grant, NALCAB and eleven non-profit CDFI small business lenders in the NALCAB Network jointly launched the Acceso Loan Fund to provide small business loans up to $500,000 to diverse entrepreneurs. In late February and March, the coronavirus pandemic radically changed market conditions for small businesses and has required the NALCAB Network partners to rapidly reassess the Acceso Loan Fund's short-term strategy. In April, the NALCAB Network Partners, in close communication with the Wells Fargo Foundation, repositioned a total of $4.5 million from the Acceso Loan Fund to support four NALCAB member CDFIs with the deployment of federal Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) loans.
